SOW WISELY; REAP RICHLY.

Here are the prizes Paducah and McCracken county candidates in The Sun's Contest stand to win:

Three Grand Prizes, which go to the three candidates, irrespective of district, who stand the highest at the close of the contest, August 4:

A fully equipped, latest pattern Ford automobile, with tourabout seat, $1,000.

Second—$500 in cash.

Third—$350 in cash.

The McCracken county prizes are: A $400 Ward piano, sold by Hays & Miller Bros., which will go to the candidate standing highest in the county. Then the following prizes will be alternated between the succeeding candidates in the two districts into which the county has been divided: a one hundred and fifty dollar diamond, purchased from Joe Wolf; A hundred dollar buggy, purchased from Powell-Rogers; a seventy-five dollar range purchased from Geo. O. Hart & Sons; a seventy-five dollar scholarship in The Paducah Central Business College; two fifty dollar watches, and two twenty-five dollar pieces of furniture.

The number of entries in the greatest newspaper contest ever conducted in this section of Kentucky is simply amazing. The Sun's daily mail has increased to startling proportions, and before the first publication of contestants is made, a world of work must be done in properly classifying these candidates and investigating their eligibility. For that reason it may be several days before the first list is printed. But when it is, the people of West Kentucky will be most pleasantly surprised to note the number and class of people who have interested themselves in this gigantic struggle.

This little explanation is made for the benefit of the many anxious inquirers who want to know "when will the first list be published?"

Just as a little preliminary advice to those who will be at the barrier when it is snapped, and a thousand or more contestants will leave the post in a bunch, the contest department wants to moralize a little bit. Perhaps no more fitting illustrations are found than in the plain, simple fables of Aesop, and the following would seem to apply with particular force just at this time. It goes something like this:

"A certain husbandman, lying at the point of death, called his sons around him, and gave into their charge, his fields and vineyards, telling them that a treasure lay hidden somewhere in them, within a foot from the ground. His sons thought he spoke of money, which he had hidden, and after he was buried, they dug most industriously all over the estate, but found nothing. The soil being so well loosened, however, the succeeding crops were of unequalled richness, and the sons then found out what their father had in view in telling them to dig for hidden treasure."

Now that is just exactly what The Attorney Dennis Mocquot Receives List of Speakers Assigned by Program Committee.

Attorney Dennis Mocquot, member of the program committee of the State Bar association, has received the following list of speakers for the meeting here July 7 and 8:

Principal address by Hon. George W. Wickham, attorney general of the United States. He will select his own subject, but has not yet announced it.

Hon. John S. Lassing, of the Kentucky court of appeals, "Distinction Between Judicial and Legislative Functions."

Hon. Robert L. Stout, of Versailles, circuit judge, "Where the Law Fails."

Mr. Henry Burnett, of Louisville, "Kentucky's Contribution to Jurisprudence."

Mr. William Ayers, of Pineville, "Land Titles in Kentucky."

Mr. Montgomery Merritt, of Henderson, "Future of Our Profession."

All of these subjects will be open for general discussion after the address is delivered by the selected speaker.

Methodist Conference

Paducah district conference of the Methodist church, south, embracing 23 pastoral charges, will convene at Fountain avenue church Friday, May 28. The opening sermon will be preached Thursday night probably by the Rev. A. C. Moore, of Clinton. The Rev. J. W. Blackard, presiding elder, will preside. The business sessions will occupy Friday and Saturday and on Sunday the Protestant pulpits will be filled by Methodist ministers. A laymen's rally will be held at the Broadway Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Sun and associated papers will say to contestants. Here is a great unworked mine of opportunity. It is going to be extremely worth while for every contestant to get out and "turn up the soil" in his particular district. The prizes are not buried, but by the proper cultivation of contest soil, such an abundant vote crop will result that they need have no fear of not "finding the treasure."

And that is the very thing that is going to happen. Just at this time the wise candidates are investigating the condition of their particular fields. They are looking the situation over with a critical eye and when they start they will know exactly what they are doing. It is safe to say that once this contest is under full swing, which will be immediately after the first announcement of names a few days hence, West Kentucky is going to witness such a pawing up of the earth as was never before heard of in a similar venture in this section.

Line up your friends; know where they stand and how far you can depend upon them. You will want to know just when and where you can get them when they are needed. So prepare the soil now. Send in your name, or that of a friend, and don't forget the little lesson taught in the fable: The richest prizes will go to the most industrious diggers!

That magnificent $1,000 Ford touring car made its first appearance on the streets of Paducah today and is certainly attracting the sort of comment that indicates that this mammoth contest proposition is taking hold of the people with a force that is unbelievable.

The ground floor is the place to get in on any proposition. Those who enter now will be in on the ground floor of the very snubest sub-cellar.

Now that is just exactly what The

BANK GUARANTEE

New York, May 22.—The proposition to have surety companies guarantee deposits of national banks in Texas, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma in order to meet the situation presented by the state guarantee law and the refusal of the government to permit national banks to take advantage of the law, will be brought to a speedy conclusion. State banks are getting the business, causing national banks to suffer loss.

PREST. HARAHAH OF I. C. PASSING THROUGH TONIGHT

Paducah will be honored by a short visit this afternoon from J. T. Harahan, president, and F. B. Harriman, general manager, of the Illinois Central railroad. The officials will arrive from Cairo at 5:30 o'clock and after a short stop will proceed to Louisville. A. H. Egan, superintendent of the Louisville division; G. H. Groce, superintendent of telegraph and telephone; L. E. McCabe, assistant superintendent of the Louisville division, arrived last night from Louisville to meet the Chicago officials. Mr. Groce left this morning for Fulton and up to Cairo, but may return tonight.

The visit of the officials will not affect the shops in any way yet, although it is considered their visit will be in the interest of putting the telephone system into operation for handling trains. Mr. Groce, who has charge of the installation, this morning said that the telephones on the Louisville division would be put into operation next week, while the telephones on the Paducah district will be placed in operation the first week in June. The line is practically ready now, although much experimental work has been done on it. The officials have tried to adopt the best in every instance, and every change has been tried. The system will not be put into use all at once, as the officials desire to break the employees into it gradually. At first only messages will be sent, and as they learn how to handle the instruments better the telephone will be used for handling the trains.

PEARL BUTTON INDUSTRY

IS SEEKING FREE SITE.

Paducah has an opportunity to secure an industry for the manufacture of pearl buttons from mussel shells, which are plentiful in the rivers around the city. Mr. A. Tomlinson, representing a New York concern, is in the city and is impressed favorably with Paducah as a location for the factory. All the inducements he asks is a free site for the factory for five years, and probably the Commercial club will take up the proposition.

PRESBYTERIANS; ASSEMBLIES MEET IN THREE PLACES

Prayer For Deliverance of Congo Free State and Divorce Evil.

Cumberlands Will Meet at Dickson, Tenn.

CHURCH ORGANIZED THERE.

Savannah, Ga., May 22.—In a resolution and an amendment to it adopted by the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church, President Taft is asked to use his influence with the Belgian government to have postponed the trial of two American missionaries in the Congo, who are charged with "calumnious denunciation" of the Kasai, a rubber company in which King Leopold is a principal stockholder, and then to see to it that the missionaries are properly represented.

The resolution proper appoints May 23, Sunday, a day of special prayer for the deliverance of the missionaries, Rev. Dr. William W. Morrison and Rev. Dr. W. H. Sheppard, "from any miscarriage of justice under the forms of law, and also for the deliverance of the people of Congo Free State from the hand of the oppressor."

Dr. E. M. Green, of Danville, Va., introduced the resolution, and D. S. Henderson, of Aiken, S. C., the amendment, which embodies to appeal to the president. One of the leading opponents to the amendment was Dr. C. W. Grafton, of Mississippi, who stated that it was contrary to the church policy to appeal to the civil authorities; that the assembly is ecclesiastical strictly, and that the proper representations had already been made to the government.

Rev. Richard Orme Flynn, of Atlanta, read from the church articles of government, which provide that no appeal shall be made to civil authorities except in the form of an humble petition and in extraordinary cases. He urged that the amendment was humble and the case extraordinary.

The vote was taken and showed the younger men of the assembly lined up behind the amendment. Some of the older heads were opposed to it. R. C. Reed, of Columbia, S. C., was heard on "Calvin's Contribution to the Reformation," and last night T. C. Johnson, of Richmond, Va., on "Calvin's Contribution to Church Policy."

The membership of the standing committees of the assembly was announced.

SMELLS OF FRAUD.

Washington, May 22.—The federal government's investigation into the New York custom frauds threatens the disclosures more astounding than those recently unearthed in the false weighing of sugar. It fears of the treasury department officials are realized, a conspiracy will be unearthed, involving not only customs inspectors but several big importers, and a transportation company, and men higher up in the New York customs office.

preceding year. In presenting the report of the board of education, Rev. F. F. Johnson, of McKenzie, Tenn., secretary of the board, announced the receipt of a telegram stating that the keys of Bethel college at McKenzie, for the possession of which, litigation was instituted several months ago, had been surrendered by the opposing or "Unionist" faction and that the college had been taken possession of by the Cumberland Presbyterians.

The financial report of this board showed the total receipts for the year to have been $1,478.45, and disbursements $1,002.28.

In reporting for the board of ministerial relief, Rev. J. M. Milholland made reference to the fact that litigation is in progress for possession of endowments, legacies and properties in connection with the "Thorn-ton Home" for aged ministers and the widows.

The report of the board of missions was presented by Judge H. Prendergast, of Marshall, Tex. It was the recommendation of the board that the present field secretary, Rev. W. M. Robinson, of Marshall, Tex., be retained and that he be employed to devote his entire time to the work. The legal board of finance reported receipts of $2,861.47 and expenditures of $2,517.60.

The board of publication in their report, which was presented by R. L. Baskette, of Nashville, Tenn., placed the receipts from various sources at $5,709.01 and expenditures of $4,135.29.

A joint session of the Women's Board of Missions and the mission board of the assembly was held to review the work of the past year and hear suggestions and plan for the future. The meeting, which was under the direction of the field secretary of the mission board, was presided over by Rev. Clark, of Jefferson, Tex. Speakers included Mr. Robinson, Rev. T. Ashburn, of Knoxville, and J. B. Eisman, of Jackson, Tenn., and Mrs. Mary M. Graf, of Evansville, Ind., secretary of the woman's board.

The session of the woman's board was devoted largely to the reading of papers in connection with the work. An interesting feature was an address by Mrs. N. J. Kanna, of Knoxville, Tenn., who told of the history and accomplishments of the organization. Reports of committees were also read and satisfactory progress reported.

In the afternoon a reception was tendered by the local missionary society. The legal question will be the subject of discussion, and it is proposed that plans shall be laid for a vigorous continuation of the contests now on with the Presbyterian church of the United States.

During this afternoon's session of the assembly fraternal greetings were received from the general assembly of the Cumberland church, colored, now in session at Cleveland, Tenn.

Two Candidates Out

The small interest evinced in the Democratic primary and the refusal of the great majority of the party, who oppose Dave Cross for re-election, has encouraged two Republicans to make a try for the nomination. from an unexpected quarter came today when Elkins, of West Virginia, one of the stalwarts, delivered a broadside in opposition to the scheduled presented by the finance committee and claimed the interests of West Virginia are sadly neglected.

Aldrich declared he thought there had been a good deal of irrelevance in the debate. Bailey, of Texas, objected to the statement and said there has been less of that kind upon this measure than upon any other tariff bill in the history of the country.

Laundry Mark Produced by
New City Laundry Corresponds With Mark on Dead
Boy's Underwear.

While John C. Riley, of Henderson, is hastening to Paducah to learn whether the unknown boy brought to Heath from Kansas City as Richard Hite is really his son, Higginson Riley, the telegraph operator, trinkets were received this morning from off the dead boy and they indicate that the body has been identified correctly. Riley will arrive late this afternoon, having left Henderson this morning at 8:45 o'clock and the body will be exhumed and the identity established tonight.

Mr. Guy Nance went to Heath to take up the body, and when Mr. Riley arrives he will go there with Chief Collins to view the body and bring it in if it is his son.

This morning Lee Hite received a package of trinkets from the undertaker in Kansas City. The package included a "Red Beacon" fountain pen, a leather cigar case, which had the odor of tobacco, an Ingersoll watch with a small piece of leather for a fob, two cheap cuff links with the figure of a woman on them; an inexpensive ring with a ruby setting, and two collar buttons. With these it was even impossible to identify the dead boy.

Mr. W. B. Harris, a friend of Riley and former employer, remembered that Riley had a ring with a large ruby, but stated he did not have it in Paducah or he can not recall it to mind. None of the other articles were identified by him. The messenger boys of the Postal Telegraph company said that Riley had a pair of cuff links that correspond to those found in the clothes of the boy. Frank Slaughter, an operator, said he believes that Riley carried an Ingersoll watch, but can not remember any other articles. The messenger boys said that Riley carried his cigar in a metal case, but they heard him state that he wanted a leather case. It is possible that Riley got the ring from home or purchased the trinkets since leaving Paducah. At the New Richmond hotel it was impossible for his friends to remember the articles.

The Laundry Mark.

The New City Laundry, which was patronized by Higginson Riley, while employed by the Postal Telegraph company produced his laundry mark as "H. R." which corresponds with the laundry mark on the under-clothing of the dead boy. The entries were made: October 24, November 12, and December 4.

Mr. Lee Hite was positive that the trinkets were not the property of his brother, Richard Hite, who is near Mitchell, S. D.

Last night dispatches were received from Henderson to the effect that John C. Riley expressed full belief that the body was that of his boy. He returned last night from Louisville, when he learned the news, but it was impossible for him to catch a train for Paducah before 8:45 o'clock this morning, and he will arrive in Paducah either at 4:15 o'clock or 6:10 o'clock. Riley first wired to let the body remain in the grave until he arrived, but early this morning Mr. W. B. Harris received a message from Riley, asking him to have the body exhumed and brought to Paducah for complete identification. It is the duty of Coroner Frank Baker to be present when a body is removed, but he was busy today, and was unable to make the trip. Owing to the lateness of the hour, the body will not be exhumed until early tomorrow morning. The father of the boy probably will be able to identify the clothes of his son.

In his letter the undertaker at Kansas City said the coroner was holding the pistol in his possession as evidence of a possible murder of the boy, but that he would express it to J. W. Hite. He failed to mention the make of the revolver. Riley owned an Iver-Johnson revolver of 32-calibre.

The many friends of Higginson Riley believe that he is the dead boy and express sorrow. His happy manner, and winning ways captured many friends for him. The boy was a constant reader, and was a regular visitor at the public library.

Heard From in Owensboro.

The Owensboro Inquirer says: "Henderson was communicated with by telephone, and it is believed here that the body buried at Paducah as Richard Hite is undoubtedly that of Higginson Riley. Young Riley was last heard from in Atchison, Kas., May 3, and stated that he was on his way to Albuquerque, New Mexico, to go to work.

"Frank Meek, manager of the Postal office in Owensboro, also heard from Riley about two weeks ago and Riley told him that he was going to leave the employ of the Northern Pacific railroad in Nebraska. However, the card to Mr. Meek did not say where Riley would go. It is the general belief of those who knew Riley that he got into trouble in Kansas City and was killed."

HIGH OFFICERS OF K. C. COMING TO INITIATION

Initiation of Hundred Candidates Promised Here for June 6.

Fancy Farm Will Have Council of Its Own.

WILL BE INSTALLED THEN.

Preparations are under way for a big day for the Knights of Columbus Sunday, June 6, when a large class of candidates will be initiated into the mysteries of the order. For the occasion the Paducah lodge will prepare for a reception of the visitors, some of whom will be distinguished men of the state. The complete arrangements have not been made, but will be completed next week, and the program announced.

A class of nearly 100 members will be initiated from Fancy Farm, and a new lodge instituted. Practically the lodge has been organized, but the initiation work will be done by the Paducah lodge. In addition a large class of candidates from Paducah will be made members. In the morning the members and visitors will march to St. Francis de Sales church, where special services will be held. In the afternoon the initiation work will be done. In the evening a banquet will be served with covers spread for about 200.

Judge Matt O'Dougherty, of Louisville, P. H. Callahan, district deputy and his staff of Louisville; J. J. Cavannah, of Louisville; G. L. Drury, of Morgantown, are some of the leading men who have consented to attend. They will be on the program for toasts. The toastmaster has not been selected. Visitors from all of the surrounding towns and cities are expected, and several hundred visiting members will be in attendance.

COUNTY SCHOOL

GRADUATES WILL

ATTEND CHURCH

The baccalaureate sermon for the graduates of the county schools will be preached tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Lone Oak Methodist church by the Rev. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church. For the occasion a large crowd is expected, and the new church no doubt will be crowded to overflowing. This year there are 45 members of the graduating class, the largest in the history of the county schools.

Miss Nannie Bagwell is president of the class. Miss Ruby Black is the secretary. Miss Bagwell is also the salutatorian. Munier Ragsdale is the valedictorian. The class motto is "Push on." The class is divided into two divisions, the first division having finished in January and the second in May. The class roll is: Fay Sullivan, Bessie O. Bumpous, Lillian Smith, Ruth Childress, Bedott Russell, Bessie Smith, Zena Bagwell, Jettie Buchanan, Willie Hite, Baker Jett, Eddie Tucker, Lottie Frazier, Annie Lane, Gerald Loftus, Munier Ragsdale, Edward Moss, Nannie Bagwell, Elwyn Stewart, Otto Shaffer, Carrie Williams, Roy Stewart, Blonda Burrow, Pearl Page, Emmett Sheron, Louis Rigsberger, Ernest Leonard, Thomas Farthing, Brantly Boas, Mallie Tapp, Addie Elliott, Moffett Rountree, Lawrence Foth, Curtis Flint, Leah Reddick, Ivy Ezell, Mark Smith, Ruby Black, Stanley Phillips, George Jones, Raymon Rountree, Mary Perkins, Roy Ross, Annabel Flesher, Ina Kelley, Raymond Childress.

Roosevelt Missing Again

Nairobi, May 22.—For the second successive day Roosevelt's dead animal failed him. Today shots of two others in the party prevented a huge buffalo bull from getting away after Roosevelt had slightly wounded it.

Tomorrow the Harmony singing will be held at Benton, and it is expected that several thousand people will attend. Paducah will be well represented, as there are many Marshall county citizens who will return to their former home for a day.

Cairo, the ancient baseball enemy of the Indians, will tie up in a struggle tomorrow afternoon at League park. The W. O. AERONAUTICS

WILL BE STUDIED BY ARMY SIGNAL CORPS.

In Spite of Fact That Congress Refused Appropriation for It.

Washington, May 22.—The efforts of General Allen, chief of the signal corps, and of the war department to secure from congress an appropriation to purchase sufficient equipment to undertake experimentation in aeronautics having failed, the United States will be a somewhat barren field for aeronauts and aviators during the coming year. The one dirigible balloon in the possession of the department will make flights at Omaha, where the army has its only gas plant. Here, officers and men will be taught how it feels to be in the air. Trial flights may also be made to Fort Leavenworth, but outside of this the government will take no cognizance of aeronautics as a part of the future equipment of armies.

Lieutenants Lahn and Foulis will not remain at Fort Omaha. As soon as they put the dirigible into shape

they will return to Fort Myer, Washington, to take lessons from the Wright brothers and Herring in the handling of aeroplanes. These machines, if they meet the requirements of the war department, will be experimented with, but their delivery has little other than a scientific interest, for the department has no fund with which to purchase more than one of each.

Despite the apparent apathy on the part of congress, efforts will be continued by the signal corps to establish to the satisfaction of the national legislators the value of the aeroplane in military operations. American inventors have achieved their successes in the face of a disheartening lack of interest and support from the government. Prof. Langley who, it is acknowledged, did more for aeronautics than any other person with the exception of the Wrights, was made the target of ridicule by certain congressmen whose knowledge of the problems of flight was confined to the observation of birds. The Wrights themselves happen to be in the United States because the war department saw fit to use a portion of the fund appropriated for the board of ordnance and fortification to encourage them in their work. Even the medal voted the Wright brothers in honor of their achievement will not be done by a noted artist because congress did not supply sufficient money for this purpose. The design will be executed at the mint.

There is every hope, however, that, at the forthcoming session, an appropriation may be secured to take up aeronautical experiments in earnest. With the problem of flight, to a certain extent, solved, it is now of the utmost importance to determine how the advantage so gained may be put to practical use. As weapons of defense or attack, aeroplanes and dirigible balloons are not likely to be effective or dangerous at the present stage of development. In conjunction with the use of wireless telegraphy, however, they may be of incalculable benefit in the conduct of a military campaign by disclosing the enemy's position. For scouting purposes they would be invaluable.

The question of dropping explosives

is still a hypothetical one. It is pointed out that it is no easy matter to drop a bomb with any accuracy which might have a destructive effect from great heights.

THE CALL.

Love comes laughing up the valleys,
Hand in hand with hoyden Spring;
All the Flower-people nodding,
All the Feathered Folk a-wing.

"Higher! Higher!" call the thrushes;
"Wildier! Freer!" breathe the trees
And the purple mountains beckon
Upward to their mysteries.

Always farther leagues to wand—
Peak to peak and slope to slope;
Lips to sing and feet to follow,
Eyes to dream and heart to hope.

Tarry? Nay, but who can tarry?
All the world is on the wing;
Love comes laughing up the valleys,
Hand in hand with hoyden Spring.

SOCIAL CALENDAR.

WEDNESDAY—The active members of the Matinee Musical club will meet in business session at 3 p. m. with the president, Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells, at her apartments on Broadway.

THURSDAY—The German club will entertain with a dance at the Casino, Wallace park, in honor of Miss Ethel Brooks and her bridal party.

THURSDAY—The Matinee Musical club will have an evening organ recital, with concert features, under the direction of Mrs. Samuel H. Winstead, at the Broadway Methodist church at 8 o'clock. All the organists of the city will take part, as well as other notable musical talent. It is open to the public.

FRIDAY—The Thursday Night club will meet at 8 p. m. in the parlors of the Palmer House. It will be the final meeting of the club for this season.

Visitors and Parties for Brooks-Koger Wedding.
A number of attractive parties are being planned for the week-end of

May, in honor of the visitors who will arrive to attend the wedding of Miss Ethel Brooks and Mr. David Koger on June 1.

Miss Anne Rhea and her sister, Miss Louise Rhea, of Nashville, arrived today and are the guests of Mrs. James Koger and Mrs. Vernon Blythe of North Seventh street. Miss Anne Rhea has been an attractive visitor in Paducah before.

Miss Aileen Caldwell, of Memphis, and Miss Gertrude Champion, of Jacksonville, Fla., are expected on Tuesday, and will be the guests of Miss Ethel Brooks, 317 North Seventh street. They are both members of the bridal party. Miss Champion was Miss Brooks' popular guest two years ago.

A German is already announced for Thursday evening in honor of the visitors and the bridal party will be variously entertained between Tuesday and June the first.

Mrs. Keller, Miss Keller and Miss Wheeler to Visit Europe.

Mrs. John W. Keller will leave tomorrow for Louisville and New York for a short stay and will sail from New York June 2 on the Campania for a several months' sojourn in Europe. She will join a party, chaperoned by Miss Hood, of Baltimore, that will include Miss Anita Keller and Miss Mary Wheeler, of Paducah. The party will land at Queenstown and coach leisurely through Ireland and England before going into the continent. Mrs. Keller will return home by the Mediterranean route, but Miss Keller and Miss Wheeler will remain with Miss Hood for a year's travel and study of Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Wheeler and Mr. John W. Keller will leave the last of the month for New York to see the party sail.

Mr. Roscoe Reed to Take His L.L.B. Yesterday's Louisville Times has the picture of Mr. Roscoe Reed, of this city and under the head, "Will Make Debut in His Home City."

makes mention of the popular young man as follows:

"Roscoe Reed, a son of Judge William M. Reed, of Paducah, Ky., will be graduated from the Jefferson School of Law on May 26, at Macaulay's theater, with the degree of L.L.B. He also is a graduate of the Paducah High school and of Miami university at Oxford, O., where he received the A. B. degree. His intention is to practice his profession in Paducah, where he already had been admitted to the bar. Mr. Reed has shown marked preference for the criminal end of law, and among those who know him has attained a reputation as an orator. He takes a live interest in Democratic politics in his home city."

Talented Visitor Returns Home. Miss Hazel Gray McCandless, who has been the attractive visitor of Mrs. J. M. McCandless, and Miss Hazel McCandless, 333 North Ninth street, left for her home this morning. Miss McCandless' graciousness and attractive personality won her many friends here, while her charm as a violinist delighted all who heard her play.

Novel Entertainment.

The "Conundrum Tea" given last evening by the Ramsey society of the Broadway Methodist church in the League parlors upstairs, was a delightful affair. The rooms were prettily decorated with baskets of roses and vases of other spring flowers. Tables attractively set for a meal and arranged to seat four persons were scattered over the rooms, and a number of charming young girls acted as waitresses. The bill of fare was so cleverly gotten up that the guests ordered by the American rather than the European plan, to satisfy their curiosity. The menu was:

1. New England Brains, 3c.
2. What Most People Need, 2c.
3. Last of Poor Dog Tray, 1c.
4. Labor's Stronghold, 3c.
5. Unruly Member, 2c.
6. Fruit of the Vine, 2c.
7. The Season, 1c.
8. A Wise Beverage, 1c.
9. Food of the Spinning Wheel, 1c.
10. What Asthmatic People Are, 5c.
11. Spring's Offering, 1c.
12. Ivory Manipulators, 1c.
13. First Love, 1c.
14. Bust of the Great Commentator, 1c.
15. A Little Indian, 1c.
16. Cream, Strawberries and Cake, 15c.

Enjoyable Surprise Party.

Miss Madie Mayers, of 1106 South Fourth street, was pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening at her home, in honor of her nineteenth birthday. The parlors were prettily decorated with cut flowers and ferns and the color scheme of pink and green was effectively carried throughout the decorations. During the evening dainty refreshments were served and the time was enjoyably spent with music and games. Those present were: Misses Mabel Berry, Murrel Smedley, Bessie Gockel, Lalia Robinson, Bessie Smedley, Inez Bell, Rubie, Emma and Madie Mayers, Messrs. Richard, Clyde and Oran Bell, Ollie Barnett, Harry Voss, Robert Trantham, Chester Kerth, Will Clark and Charles Keagan.

Nashville Party of Interest Here. The Nashville Banner of Friday says:

"Mrs. Hamilton Parks entertained most delightfully at luncheon at 1 o'clock today at her home on West End avenue, complimentary to Mrs. H. N. MacHarg, of Duluth, who has been spending the winter at Biloxi, and who is now en route home. A wealth of mountain laurel, roses and other flowers of the season decorated the reception rooms and the dining-room, illuminated by rose-hued tapers on the sideboard and about the room was decorated in pink. Three cut glass receptacles on the table held large pink peonies, and the exquisite covers used were of drawn linen and Russian lace. The place cards were Japanese fans ornamented with heads, with cards attached by pink ribbons. The tea course in the tempting menu of eight courses was particularly pretty. It was a mint Charlotte decorated with candy roses, served with pink rose cakes. Mrs. Park's guests besides the honoree were: Mesdames Charles H. Eastman, G. P. Edwards, Jordan Stokes, George Kirkpatrick, William Woolwine, Ernest Pillow, James Palmer, Alton Wade, Roger Eastman, Hunter McDonald and Houson Fall, of El Paso, Tex., and Miss Harriet Hains. Mrs. Parks was costumed in an embroidered lavender crepe, finished with white lace, and Mrs. MacHarg in a wisteria silk, lace trimmed."

"Next Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock a tea for the benefit of the W. C. T. U. of West End will be given at the home of Mrs. Hamilton Parks, which will be an interesting social event of the week. Mrs. H. N. MacHarg, of Duluth, Mrs. Parks' house guest, who is a very gifted amateur entertainer, will give a charming program."

The Cairo Woman's Club. The Cairo Woman's club held an interesting program—meeting this week. National Hymns were entertainingly featured. The Cairo Bulletin says:
"After the business meeting an excellent paper was read by Mrs. J. E. Strong on the national hymn of England and illustrated it by singing 'God Save the King.'
"A very interesting paper on the national hymn of France was read by Mrs. Albert Gallagher and illustrated by singing 'Marseilles.'" on the German national hymns. To illustrate this Miss Bell, teacher of German in the High school, came down with her German class and sang 'The Watch on the Rhine' in German, which was very fine and much appreciated by the Woman's club. The class had been practicing under the supervision of Miss Miller, teacher of music, and Miss Bell.

Louisville Woman's Club.

The nineteenth annual meeting of the Louisville Woman's club was held Wednesday afternoon at the club building, Fourth avenue, near Oak street. The report of Mrs. George C. Avery, the president, and those of the chairmen of the various committees, were read and approved. It was shown that the club now has a membership of 241, twenty-four of whom were added during the past year. The report of Mrs. Avery was a very carefully prepared paper, and sets forth clearly the achievements of the club during the year 1908. She said that co-operation had been the rule in every committee, and that this had had the effect of making the club effective in all of its undertakings. It was set forth that two distinct changes had been tested during the year—one providing that no member could serve on more than one committee, and the other that Wednesday should be club day. Both had proved beneficial, the president said. Eight important lectures were given under the auspices of the club. The following are newly-elected chairmen of the seven committees and the work outlined for them for the coming year:

Mrs. Samuel B. Kirby, chairman of the literature committee; "Dramatic Element in the Old Testament."

Miss Patty Thurt, chairman of the art committee.
Miss Emily Davidson, chairman of the music committee; instrumental and choral recitals.

Mrs. Edmund H. Bacon, chairman of committee on current events.

Mrs. John D. White, chairman of civic committee; a city, sanitary, convenient and beautiful.

Mrs. Henry Burnett, chairman of committee on lectures.

Mrs. William A. Northcutt, chairman of hospital committee.

The work of the new year will not begin until the next meeting of the club on October 6, which is known as president's day.

Why Not Have Beautiful Hair?

Beautiful Hair is now within the reach of every woman who will use

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

The ORIGINAL remedy that kills the dandruff germ.

Herpicide is the only remedy that strikes at the very root of hair trouble by destroying the dandruff germ, after which the hair is bound to resume its natural beauty and abundance.

The wonderful success of Newbro's Herpicide has brought out many preparations claiming to kill the dandruff germ. There is but one genuine dandruff germ destroyer and all other remedies, making such a claim, hope to trade upon the reputation of genuine Herpicide.

Just begin the use of Newbro's Herpicide in secret and see how soon your friends will notice the improvement in your hair.

A Pennsylvania woman, whose hair is of extreme length and beauty, writes: "I find that by the continued use of Herpicide my hair is growing longer and thicker than ever before."

Don't waste your money on new and untried remedies that claim to equal Herpicide when you can buy the original and genuine article at any drug store. Herpicide stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Send 10 cents in stamps to THE HERPICIDE COMPANY, Dept. L, Detroit, Mich., for sample and booklet. One Dollar Bottles Guaranteed. At Drug Stores. When you call for HERPICIDE do not accept a substitute. Applications at prominent Barber Shops.

and friends were present yesterday. The judges had a difficult time in deciding the winner. The winner had never studied about the revolutionary period in her studies, and her information was secured by her own efforts. Mrs. L. W. Boswell, the new vice regent, Mrs. Armour Gardner and Mrs. J. H. Baldwin were the judges. Mrs. Boswell presented the prize to the winner.

In addition to the contest a program consisting of songs, drills and recitations, and the exercises drew a large number of visitors. The school was prettily decorated with flowers, while an exhibit of the work of the students was shown. Mrs. I. O. Walker made a short talk to the pupils and complimented them on their compositions, and urged them to continue to study the history. W. P. Hummel and Superintendent Carnagey both made speeches of the same nature. They cited a number of improvements needed by the school, the main one being the installation of desirable heating plants instead of the stoves for each room. The program was prepared and arranged by Prof. M. E. Ligon, and the teachers of the building.

Mar-vel-lous!

RHEUMATISM CURED.

To anyone suffering with rheumatism I will say I was confined in bed and unable to walk, even with sticks, for six weeks. My family physician said I was bound to grow worse as I grew older. I took a bottle of Hays' Specific. One bottle cured me sound and well. I have gained ten pounds in weight and can eat any kind of food without pain.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Women's Ailments.

I am a woman. I know women's sufferings. I have found the cure. I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from women's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—your mother, your sister, your daughter, your neighbor, or your friend. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is a safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or White discharge, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Protrusion, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors or Growths, also pains in the head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex. I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you should wish to continue, it will cost you only about 15 cents a week, or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedsily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Discharge and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in Young Ladies. Plumpness and health always results from its use. Whenever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment is yours also the book. Write today, as you may not see it in offer again. Address

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Police Judge.
The Sun is authorized to announce the candidacy of Mr. Thomas N. Hazlip for police judge, city of Paducah, subject to the action of the Republican party.

Daily Thought.
Misfortune is the touchstone of friendship.—German.

Wonder what it was that Joel Fort failed to get, that makes him mad with the association.

No telling how many men H. H. Rogers saved from ruin yesterday because his funeral caused Wall street to be deserted.

The Lexington Gazette and Leader both admit they tell the truth, but they disagree as to what the truth consists of.

By rigid economy in the matter of clothing, Anna Held is able to retire from the show business with a million.

In the course of a lawsuit, during which the evening meal was indiscriminately called by witnesses dinner and supper, the jury became so confused that the judge was compelled to explain that the evening meal properly is supper. Some people will argue that the jury was made stupid by eating a big meal in the middle of the day.

CONDEMNING AND REFORMING.
The world will always have two kinds of reformers: the mere prude, who can see the evil detached on all occasions, but can do no more than vainly protest against the inevitable; and the constructive, progressive reformer, who takes advantage of every opportunity to turn evil into good. The moving picture show is an example.

Some people utterly condemn it, because of the trivialness of its comic pictures, and the bad influence of crime pictures, now happily generally proscribed. But of what avail is their condemnation. People will go to them, and they will gain much amusement and no little instruction from the pictures. Some pious people have protested against the theater from time immemorial, and they have neither abolished the theater, detracted from its popularity nor improved it.

The moving picture show is capable of doing much good along with its entertainment. Assuredly it has brought foreign countries and manners home to people, who cannot afford to travel. There are many ways in which the moving picture show can be made to subserve a useful purpose in the community, and therein lies the opportunity for reform.

HON. CHARLES K. WHEELER.
Various views are expressed by Democratic papers on the suggestion of Hon. Charles K. Wheeler, for Democratic candidate for governor, none of which reflect ought but credit on the personal worth of Mr. Wheeler. The Bowling Green Messenger says:

There is no discount upon Mr. Wheeler's ability. He is brilliant in debate, often even more eloquent and forceful in his arguments than Bryan or Bailey. He has superb courage, and, with accumulating years, greater conservatism and wisdom than characterized his more youthful days in public life. Should he be drafted by the Democratic party of Kentucky as its leader two years hence, he would make an aggressive and winning fight, mercilessly exposing the weaknesses of the present Republican administration; but there are others who can much more easily be induced to accept the party's toga than Mr. Wheeler.

The Carlisle County News says: "In speaking of the possible candidates for governor the Paducah News-Democrat rises to remark: 'Another gentleman who is coming in for quite a bunch of complimentary expression from the state at large is Hon. Chas. K. Wheeler.' 'That's the dope to give 'em. By all means let's have a candidate for governor from Paducah, because Paducah never gets nothin' no how. Wonder if some timber couldn't be found at Paducah that would make a United States senator, or president of the United States?'"

The Clinton Gazette says: "The Paducah News-Democrat is trying to start a boom for Chas. K. Wheeler for governor. No matter how clean a man Mr. Wheeler may be, the support of the News-Democrat will cause Democrats who want a candidate free from the sinister influence to look upon his candidacy with suspicion."

SOME STORIES

AROUND TOWN

Business instinct and economy so enter into a man's every day existence, that sometimes he forgets the ordinary niceties of life. A man appeared at the city hall yesterday and asked for a rebate of the price of one lot in Oak Grove cemetery. He was moving away, he said. He told that when his mother died he purchased two lots. He only needed one.

"Why did you buy two, when you needed only one?" he was asked. "Well, my wife was sick at the time, and I thought while I was buying a lot, I might just as well buy two."

He got his money back.

DUN'S REVIEW.

New York, May 22.—Almost every development, except the lengthening debate on the tariff, is favorable, and the gains made in spite of the tariff disturbance are a fair indication of what may be expected when that is out of the way. Domestic agricultural conditions are excellent and yet the prices of farm products continue to advance. The area of improvement in iron and steel is rapidly widening and a notable event of the week in the restoration of wages by independent producers. Reports of railroads are of steadily increasing business and latest earnings show a gain of 14.9 per cent over last year, the decrease compared with 1907 being 12.8 per cent.

The primary cotton goods market still continues to be dominated by the high level of prices for raw material. The print cloth market is still very firm, with sales moderate, and more demand on the finer counts for converters and cutters. In the woolen goods division duplicate business on heavy weights has been fairly satisfactory, and greater improvement is anticipated, as clothiers now know the general trend of the demand.

The principal feature of the trade is the higher level of prices at which business is being done. In the dress goods division a scarcity in the fall season is anticipated. The general level of yarn prices is higher, although comparatively little increase in business is noted.

Slight improvement in shoe conditions still continues, and while there has been no especially heavy trade, business shows an increase in nearly all lines, and large New England manufacturers expect that the footwear market will soon be restored to its normal position. Prices have again advanced and a further general rise is announced on nearly all lines. THE SPECTATOR.

Weekly Comments on Things About Town.

Will some of the ladies of the D. A. R. please give a demonstration, public or private, of the proper way really to get a drink out of the new fountain. Of course it is out of date to use a cup, but what is the best manner to procure the liquid with due respect not only to hygiene but also to decorum? We pause for a reply.

Our friend, The Traveling Man, called our attention to an incident out at the Union station the other day, and furnished the explanation with comments. The morning train pulled in and a party of young farmers alighted. Instantly they were greeted by a smooth looking individual, who gave them all the "glad hand," and presently started towards town with the whole party in tow. "That man," said our friend, "is a runner for a barrel and jug house down town and he meets the trains, gets hold of these farmer boys, and one need not be told the result. Such things as these are enough to make you join the prohibition crowd." The Spectator is not aware how far these methods obtain with the liquor trade, but it is certain that nothing could be calculated more sure to bring about the reaction of prohibition than just such methods. That runner and his house did not represent the morals of the town nor even the better element of the liquor business, nevertheless those boys reeling home drunk that night, each with a jug under his arm, gives the average farmer his idea of the morals of the city, and we cannot blame them if they retaliate with their only weapon of defense, the County Unit Vote.

We respectfully submit to the park commissioners for their consideration, whether Paducah is not now large enough to provide public play grounds for the children. All over town there are vacant lots, the use of which could be secured rent free, and the apparatus necessary would cost but little to equip them with swings, basket ball, croquet, see-saw and other amusements. The Spectator recently saw such a play ground, fitted out by a neighborhood itself, at a cost of something like $25, and it furnished amusement for more than an hundred children, off the street, away from danger, and in a sane manner. Worth thinking of?

JOHN LEWIS GETS BAIL OF $5,000

Mayfield Policeman, Who Killed a Man.

Examining Trial Held Yesterday and Concluded Last Night.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE CASE

Mayfield, Ky., May 22.—The examining trial of Policeman John Lewis was entered into Friday morning before County Judge Ed Crossland. Lewis killed Jim Puckett Tuesday night, May 11.

W. M. Ayler, whom it seems was the only eye-witness, who had testified at the coroner's inquest, told the same tale as before. He stated that he had been up to a drug store and was en route home when he met John Lewis and Jim Puckett at the corner of the Mayfield Grocery company. He saw Puckett make a dash and run north towards the Presbyterian church. Lewis said, "hold on, hold on," and began to shoot his pistol and continued until he had fired four shots. "Puckett had about eight or ten feet the start of Lewis. Puckett never looked back and Lewis had gone about 30 or 40 feet before the first shot was fired and they were about 10 or 12 feet apart. There were two shots close together," continued Mr. Ayler, "and a few seconds elapsed until two more shots in quick succession followed. At the third shot Puckett checked and bobbed as if he had been hit but began running again when the fourth shot was fired when Puckett and Lewis were about 10 or 15 feet apart. They were about the same distance apart when the third shot was fired. Puckett fell instantly after the fourth shot was fired." Mr. Ayler states that he went to the scene and asked the policeman who shot him, when the officer replied that he did. "This was about 8 o'clock," the witness said, "and the electric lights were burning."

J. W. Willett testified that he only heard three shots, but was in his office when the shooting began.

Drs. Fuller and Hunt, who attended the man after he was shot, testified that the wound in the head was fatal and never examined for the wound in the left shoulder. They also stated that they found a slight abrasion on the right hand as if it had struck something.

Blood stained clothes worn by Puckett at the time of the shooting were exhibited and identified by Coroner D. A. Saffold as the same clothing that he took from the dead man's body. He said he probed the wounds but found no bullets.

Policeman John Lewis, said: "I never saw Jim Puckett until four or five weeks before the shooting and that was at the city hall one day when he had been arrested. A warrant was placed in my hands Tuesday evening on the day of the killing. I found Puckett in Ben Parker's restaurant about 8 o'clock and went there and called him out, telling him to consider himself under arrest. He answered 'all right.' We started to the city hall when a man passed between us. Puckett began to run and I yelled for him to stop."

Lewis said that when Puckett refused to stop that he pulled his pistol after he had gone about 50 feet and fired into the air. Puckett refused to stop and he shot into the air again. The third shot Lewis said he could not tell which direction he shot and he stumbled and began to wobble until after he had shot the fourth shot.

"The last shot," he said, "was fired when I reached the north corner of the Willett livery stable." Lewis could not remember the exact time between the third and fourth shots nor could not answer as to the distance. He stated that he could not tell whether he intended to shoot the third shot or not, but it was fired while he was wobbling and did not know Puckett was shot until he reached him. Further Lewis swore that he did not intend to hit Puckett.

FOR POLICE JUDGE

THOMAS N. HAZELIP ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY.

Well Known Young Republican Would Like to Make Race Against Dave Cross.

The Sun is today making formal announcement of the candidacy of Mr. Thomas N. Hazlip for the office of police judge of this city and, as it is at the urgent request of many staunch friends that Mr. Hazlip enters the race for the nomination, it is expected that he will make a very spirited campaign.

Mr. Hazlip came to Paducah only five years ago, being at that time engaged in the international revenue service, but in that time he has bound to himself many friends. And though he has never before been a candidate for any office within the gift of the people, his active and enthusiastic work for the Republican party has brought him considerable prominence in the councils of the party.

It was at Bowling Green, that Mr. Hazlip was reared and educated, being a graduate of Ogden college; after leaving school he read law in the office of Judge J. C. Sims, who was chief counsel for Caleb Powers. He showed great aptitude for the law and was admitted to the bar in 1900, afterwards practicing in Bowling Green, Hopkinsville and Springfield, Tenn. It was not until about one year ago, however, that he resumed the active practice of his profession in Paducah, when he opened offices at 126 1/2 South Fourth street.

HOME LEAGUE

EFFECTS PERMANENT ORGANIZATION HERE.

Officers Were Elected at a Meeting in the Council Chamber Last Night.

Officers were elected last night by the Paducah Home Industry League, and the formal organization of the league was completed. Joseph Desberger, president, and A. S. Barkdale, secretary, were elected at the first meeting and their offices were made permanent, and D. E. Wilson was elected vice-president and Charles Weir treasurer. The board of directors is: Gus G. Singleton, R. M. Miles, G. E. Ballowe and George Hamlin.

The by-laws and the constitution were adopted and the league starts out in its effort to encourage the home products over the manufactured products of other cities. Meetings will be held twice a month. The members are enthusiastic and will "boost" for the city.

Anty Drudge on Education.

Katherine—"My, how provoked I am, Anty. You wouldn't dream this frock had once been white. Look at it now. I sent it to the laundress and it looks almost the color of weak coffee with milk in it."

Anty Drudge—"It's partly your fault, my dear. You're a college graduate, but you aren't educated until you know what is best for your clothes. If you had known enough to see that your white frock was washed with Fels-Naptha soap in cool or lukewarm water it would have been snowwhite. The only method of washing to without harming them."

Here's the easiest way that's ever been discovered to wash clothes—either in summer or winter.

For the white things: Wet the clothes, soap well with Fels-Naptha, roll and let soak for thirty minutes in cool or lukewarm water. Unroll, rub lightly, rinse and hang out to dry.

That's all; no boiling, no hard rubbing, no hot water.

This simple Fels-Naptha way of washing makes your clothes sweeter, whiter, cleaner than you can get them any other way.

And the clothes last longer because they are not weakened by boiling, nor worn by hard rubbing.

Worth trying?

It is for the woman who values her clothes, her time and herself.

SENATOR CLAY ON THE SUGAR TRUST

One of Most Scathing Speeches in Senate.

Goes Into Question Deeply and Sarcastically In His Address in Upper House.

SPEECH DELIVERED TODAY

Washington, May 22. (United Press).—The most scathing arraignment that the sugar trust has ever been subjected to on the floor of congress was delivered in the Senate today by Senator Clay, of Georgia, during the debate on the sugar schedule of the pending tariff bill.

"The sugar trust," he declared, "has constantly violated both the civil and criminal laws of our country. It is unconscionable and has continually robbed the American people since its organization. Instead of knocking at the door of congress seeking to increase its fortunes at the expense of the masses of the people, its officers ought to be at the bar of the criminal courts, and instead of enjoying their ill-gotten wealth they deserve to be serving long terms in our federal prisons."

"Every day in the year since it was organized, the sugar trust has violated both the civil and criminal laws passed by congress to protect the American people against these unlawful and wicked combinations. The trust has filched the treasury of the United States out of more than ten millions of revenue that justly belonged to the treasury of the United States, needed to pay the legitimate expenses of the government."

Referring to the recent revelations of fraud in connection with the weighing of sugar at the New York customs house, Senator Clay continued:

"The public press has announced that the sugar trust has paid into the treasury more than $2,000,000, of which large sum its officers and agents had robbed the treasury of the United States. Suit is now pending in New Jersey against this trust to recover a million of dollars for revenues due the government, and it is admitted by the officers of this company, including its counsel, that this unprincipled organization has robbed the American people of this vast sum which they are now trying to compromise. The trust deserves no mercy at the hands of congress and most assuredly no favors at the hands of congress. The criminal and civil laws ought to be rigorously enforced against it, and the best way to destroy it is to give it healthy foreign competition."

Favors Cheap Sugar.

"Let us give to the American people cheap sugar. Let us grasp the sugar trust by the throat and strangle it to death and keep in view the interest, the happiness and welfare of the plain people of America."

"We must remember that sugar is an important article of food daily consumed by every man, woman and child in the country. This being true, the people had the right to expect that the finance committee of the senate would treat it as a necessity and tax it accordingly; but, on the contrary, it has been singled out as a subject of attack equalled to 78 per cent of its bond value. I have been confronted with facts and figures which show that this food product pays a tax of nearly 80 per cent, while many articles of luxury in this country are taxed at much lower rates."

"Why should we place a tax on sugar at nearly 80 per cent and only 45 per cent on automobiles? Why should we place a tax of nearly 80 per cent on sugar and 35 per cent on costly furs? Why should we place a tax of nearly 80 per cent on sugar and only 10 per cent on diamonds? Why should we place a tax on sugar and only 50 per cent on expensive feathers and trimmed hats?"

"I have figures and facts before me which clearly show that the American Sugar Refining company, commonly called the sugar trust, has repeatedly sold considerable quantities of sugar for export at nearly 2 cents per pound less than the price quoted in the domestic market. If the American Sugar Refining company, commonly called the trust, can export and sell sugar at 3 cents per pound abroad and this trust sells the same sugar in America at nearly 5 cents per pound, who can wonder that the sugar trust has doubled, and even quadrupled its investment yearly?"

"Shall we continue to legislate in the interest of criminals and against the interest of the American people? If this sugar schedule shall be enacted into law in the interest of these confessed criminals, who have openly combined and confederated to destroy all competition, and who have wrenched wrongfully from the American people more than fifty millions per year profits and who have robbed the government of at least ten millions of its revenue justly due the government, then what hope has the American people?"

Criminals in Control.

"The operations of the sugar trust with the government and the indictments now pending against the employees of the trust, demonstrate beyond question that those in control of this combine are criminals and have been criminals since its organization. The defense that the officials

underweighing and smuggling from the government is not worthy of the consideration of any intelligent man. These employees, drawing small salaries, working for wages, were directed by those high in authority. The officers of the sugar trust were not even willing to make a reasonable divide with the employees who committed these crimes, giving them each $5 per week for stealing, while such thefts brought to them and their associates on an average of more than two hundred thousand per month.

"If we are to continue to legislate millions of profits into the pockets of this class of men at the expense of the American people, then let us adopt the sugar schedule provided by the finance committee of the senate."

The senator declared that the consumption of sugar in the United States in 1908 was 3,185,789 tons; about $1 pounds per capita. Nearly two-thirds came from foreign countries.

"The sugar trust controls nearly all the refineries in the United States," he continued, "and controls the entire market in this country. The beet and cane sugar growers are compelled to take the price fixed by the sugar trust. The total duties on sugar paid by the American people in 1907 was $54,310,082."

"The average market value of sugar last year was: In Hamburg, 2.64; London, 3.22, and in New York, 4.96. Our sugar consumption, at the Hamburg price, would have been less last year, by $136,080,000. Of this vast amount the government received $53,000,000 in customs revenues and the balance of $83,080,000 went to the sugar trust. During the last 12 years the American people have paid to the government sugar taxes aggregating $600,000,000. In the same time they have paid to the sugar trust profits to the amount of $600,000,000. If raw and refined sugar were admitted free to this country the cost to the consumer would be reduced nearly one-half."

"The senate finance committee has granted the trust all the favors desired without a hearing and so has the ways and means committee of the house. We were called in special session to make a substantial revision of the tariff and here is one item that costs the American people nearly $200,000,000 a year and there has not been given to this item the slightest attention."

"Such a revision of the tariff is a sham and a humbug."

Hits Aldrich.

Discussing the tariff bill in general and Senator Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee, in particular, Mr. Clay said in conclusion:

"The senator admits that we are spending $50,000,000 each year more than we ought to expend to administer this government. I challenge the senator to point out during the last twelve years a single instance where he has made any effort to reduce our expenditures. Why, during this last session of congress, when an effort was made to increase the salary of the president to $100,000 per year and to almost double the salaries of the federal judges, the senator from Rhode Island exerted every influence possible to secure its increase. When an effort was made by the senator from Maine (Mr. Hale) to cut down the expenses of the navy, the record will show that the senator from Rhode Island was the first senator to vote against the proposition."

"When did the senator become clamorous for economy and reform? Ah, Mr. President, when he saw that the income tax in all probability would become a law, he became alarmed and endeavored to show the country that we could produce enough revenue and reduce the tariff downward to support the country without an income tax. And he was exceedingly anxious when the income tax confronted him to cut down the expenses of the government to avoid the adoption of an income tax to save the millionaires of the nation from assisting in paying the legitimate expenses of the government."

"The senator has not been consistent. He has never stood for economical, plain, simple government. The senator has never had any political associations with ideas of this character. He represents what is called in his party the 'Bulwarks.' If he

Pe-u-na in Hot Countries.

In some countries the atmosphere is a natural tonic. Low temperature, high altitude, with an atmosphere rich in oxygen, are invigorating to the people. Such people are vigorous of body, quick in action, and enterprising.

Other countries are not so fortunate. High temperature, low altitude, little oxygen, and the atmosphere naturally depressing.

Tonics become almost a necessity of the everyday life. A scientific tonic in a large degree mitigates the untoward effect of a depressing climate.

A great many years ago Dr. Hartman devised Peruna. Its manufacture has been under his watchful care ever since.

To make of it a reliable and safe tonic which could be taken any length of time without producing a drug habit has been the ambition of Dr. Hartman.

That he has succeeded in bringing Peruna up to this high ideal is apparent by the world-wide reputation which it has attained.

Peruna is a tonic which is applicable in all depressing states of the system. It may be used by those recovering from acute ailments, or those who are depressed by climatic influences.

had his way he would not change our tariff laws. He is satisfied with the Dingley law.

"This tariff bill, if enacted into law in its present shape, will give no substantial relief to the American people. The question may well be asked: Why was congress called in extra session and the American people put to the extra expense of an extra session of congress if we simply intend to re-enact the Dingley law?"

GOOD, HONEST, SQUARE-DEAL

Medicines like those of Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, warrant their makers in printing their every ingredient, which they do, upon their outside wrappers, verifying the correctness of the same under oath. This open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves. Furthermore, it warrants physicians in prescribing them largely as they do in their worst cases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach and bowels, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), liver, bowels (as mucous diarrhea), or other organs.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is advised for the cure of one class of diseases only—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities peculiar to women. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nerve.

For weak, worn-out, overworked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formulae of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American, medicinal, forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum. Don't do it.

PRESIDENT CAN WIPE OUT WAR

Says One at Peace Conference—"Try Germany".

Sensational Speech By Britain's Representative Concluded Fifteenth Annual Meeting.

THE ARBITRATION CONFERENCE

Mohouk, N. Y., May 22.—With an imposing array of speakers, the fifteenth annual meeting of the Lake Mohouk conference of the international arbitration conference concluded its deliberations. The speakers included: British Ambassador Bryce, Alfred Mosely, of London; Representtative Richard Bartholdt, of Missouri; Edward J. Wheeler, editor of Current Literature; Chapin Bray, editor of the Chautauquan; Dr. Richard Watson Gilder, editor of the Century.

Bryce expressed the belief that all governments honestly desire peace; not one has any cause for war, and everyone would lose more by war than it could gain.

Nations Stir Up Suspicion.

Yet, he added, it is apparently possible for those who desire from whatever motives, to stir up suspicion and enmity to succeed in convincing each nation that the other has designs upon it.

"Would not a better knowledge by each nation of the other nations do something to dispel these suspicions? Every nation must of course be prepared to repel all dangers at all likely to threaten it. But it should also try to ascertain whether the dangers it is told to provide against are real or illusory. Suspicion breeds suspicion, and nations have sometimes to fear and dislike one another only because each was incessantly told that it was disliked by the other.

Taft Can Bring Peace.

Congressman Bartholdt in his address suggested that President Taft could end all war. He said: "If the president of the United States were to say to King Edward and Emperor William, 'let us keep the peace and in case of any trouble between two or three countries let us not draw a sword until we have had an investigation by an impartial third party, be it the power of commission or court.' If, I say, President Taft were to make a formal proposal of this nature and those two great monarchs were to grasp the outstretched hand, what would be the result? It would signify the end of war.

"If this utterance should be published, I want it understood that it was made, not at a meeting of the unsophisticated by a 'demagogue of peace,' but at a conference of experts by one who knows what he is talking about.

England's Position. Alfred Mosely's speech was less conservative than the diplomatic utterances of those who preceded him. He threw aside his prepared speech and plunged into the present relations between Great Britain and Germany. He said:

"No man who has any feeling of responsibility of war without a shudder. One regrets, even in a delicate state of public opinion both in Germany and England, the very talk of signs of trouble between them."

Naval Program.

After speaking of the over-increasing naval program, he continued: "It is a serious position, and one that I think we all strongly feel at the bottom of our hearts endangers the peace of the world. But we in England are agreed, and agreed on both sides of the commons, as to the necessity of keeping our navy up to the highest pitch of efficiency." At this point the speaker took up the causes which led to the present feeling between the two countries, beginning with the now famous interview of the German emperor.

"I believe," he said, "the German emperor means well for his own country and the world at large; but these utterances caused suspicion and have given rise to a discussion in the commons resulting in an increase in the navy.

"Now it is proposed by some that Taft take the initiative in saying something to England and to Germany. But I am not at all sure that Taft would care to undertake that task and if he does may I suggest that he turn his attention to Germany?"

Regarding Armaments.

"I will tell you why. England has proposed to Germany to come to some understanding in regard to armaments, but has received no response. England is willing and she has shown her willingness to limit or reduce her armament providing other nations, Germany especially, would do the same. And if Taft would bring about that happy state of things, I am sure England would be most grateful."

Joel B. Fort Receives Hot Answer From Felix G. Ewing in Public Card.

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 22.—General Manager Felix G. Ewing, of the Planters' Protective association, has issued a card of several thousand words in reply to a published statement of Joel B. Fort, the deposed orator of the organization, who intimated that Mr. Ewing had asked and received from that body a gift of $5,000, an annual salary of $5,000 and expenses and was waiting a favorable time to demand $10,000 a year for his services.

Mr. Ewing says he is averse to controversies and is too absorbed in the work of the association to enter into one with Mr. Fort, but that he desires to correct some misstatements made by the latter. He claims that neither directly or indirectly has he or any member of his family asked for position in the organization, and that when the $5,000 gift was made he was prone on his back in a hospital and knew nothing of the action of the directors until informed by his wife. He quotes a letter from President Charles H. Fort, brother of Joel, which says that the committee "willingly, cheerfully, gladly and religiously with one accord voted you (Mr. Ewing) $5,000." He further says that he had been paid no salary for his services and that six months after his return from the hospital he told the directors that he thought he should receive regular compensation for his work. During his absence from the room and without any suggestion from him whatever the board voted him an annual salary of $5,000.

As to Mr. Fort's charge that he was planning to have his salary raised to $10,000 a year, he says that a few months ago he mentioned to several directors that he was performing his duties at a sacrifice, and they nevetized his practically abandoning his own affairs. Quite a number of the board told him they would willingly support a resolution to double his compensation. This proposition, he says, had a "handsome majority" had it been put to a vote, but Mr. Ewing says, he was in doubt whether it would have been for the best owing to the fact that many members of the association were very poor and suffering greatly for the proceeds of unsold tobacco. Voluntarily he had the matter dropped with the mere statement that hereafter he should have to devote more time to his personal affairs. He was told that the directors wished him to do this and take life easier and not to allow the association to become such a complete burden to him.

Concerning Mr. Fort's statement that Mr. Ewing "had been vaccinated for a Moses, and it did not take, and that he ran for a Solomon, and got left at the post," the general manager quotes extensively extracts from letters of President Charles H. Fort and Joel B. Fort praising him in the most lavish and extravagant terms for his wisdom, loyalty and untiring energy in the management of the association. In one letter Mr. Joel B. Fort writes: "I speak the sentiment of the Black Patch when I say that no man ever returned to a more thankful and grateful people, no man ever came to more loving and appreciative hearts, and, most of all, the unanimous sentiment of people who know and appreciate your faithful and patriotic services is 'God bless Felix G. Ewing.'"

PRESBYTERIANS

the urgency of religious education,
were the subjects discussed by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church today.

Two other subjects which threaten to cause much parliamentary conflict, the report of the executive commission and the report of the committee on administrative agencies, were brought before the assembly.

Dr. Moffatt predicted that this session would see the adoption of a plan whereby the eight administrative boards of the church would, to a large degree, be consolidated.

The committee on marriage and divorce called attention to the increasing number of divorces as shown by the national census. It is a story,
the reports say, "that surprises the people and shames a Christian nation."
The committee asked further
time to consider the subject and report to the next assembly. Sunday observance has been gone into at great length and the results of investigations given. The report on the subject, submitted today, follows:

Sabbath Observance.
Among the reports presented to the assembly today was that of the special committee on Sabbath observance. The report says that the battle for the maintenance of the American Christian Sabbath the past year
has been more aggressive than ever.

The committee commends Canada's aim for 1909 as the world's motto:

"1. That no employer for gain shall demand unnecessary work on the Lord's Day of any employee.

"2. That no employee for gain
shall willingly work at unnecessary
work on any Lord's Day.

"3. That every person who works on the Lord's Day at any work of real necessity shall have a full day of rest
that week; and that no person shall be called upon to work on two successive Lord's Days."

In conclusion the committee recommended the adoption of the following resolutions:

"That the authority of the Christian Sabbath is found in the law of God and confirmed by the Lord Jesus Christ.

"That the general assembly expresses its strong conviction that the sacred character of the Sabbath must be carefully and strenuously maintained, and to this end enjoins all ministers, officers and members of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America to exercise
special care and faithfulness, and discourage holding funerals on that day.

"That the general assembly reiterates its strong and emphatic disapproval of all secular uses of the day, all games and sports, in civil as also in army and navy, all unnecessary traveling and all excursions,
and urges upon all employers of labor
and capitalists of industry to recognize the need of the laboring man for his weekly rest day, and thereby insure his greater efficiency and happiness
and the greater prosperity of both capital and labor.

"That the general assembly urges
on all families not to buy anything on the Sabbath, to plan for their servants on the Sabbath and to help them fulfill their religious duties, and to pay laborers so that they may have Saturday afternoon to make provision for the Sabbath.

"That this assembly heartily endorses the plan of the Saturday half holiday, and recognizes it as tending
to the better observance of the Sabbath.

"That the general assembly hereby reiterates its emphatic condemnation
of the Sunday newspaper and urges
the members of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America to refuse to subscribe for it or read it or advertise in it.

"That the general assembly respectfully requests the faculties of colleges and seminaries, if the way
be clear, to omit recitations on Monday mornings, so as to leave the Sabbath free from the felt necessity of some of the students to prepare their lessons on that day."

The committee in other resolutions
recommended further organization as to Sabbath observance; commend organizations in their efforts to preserve in its purity the Christian Sabbath and recommend that at a stated
time each pastor of the communion
preach a sermon on Sabbath observance.

Grandday Won.
"Grandday," a pretty little horse of Patrolman W. E. Baker, won a match
ace with "Bashed," owned by Cliffence Dickerson, yesterday afternoon
by five open lengths. The half mile was made in 50 seconds on a heavy track. "Grandday" took the lead at the pole and maintained it, and constantly the space between the two horses lengthened. John Doyle and Henry Bailey were judges, while Wm
Flowers was starter.

THE BARRIER

By Rex Beach

Copyright, 1908, by Harper & Brothers

Burrell had waited an instant too long for the men's voices had held so
steady, their words had been so vital,
that the finish found him unprepared;
but, thrusting the lantern into Poleon's hand, he had backed off a pace and hurled himself at the door. He fell to his knees inside and an instant later
found himself wrestling for his life
between two raging beasts. The lieutenant knew Doret must have entered,
too, though he could not see him, for the lantern shed a sickly glow over the chaos. He was locked desperately with John Gale, who flung him about
and handled him like a child, fighting
like an old gray wolf hoary with years and terrible in his rage. Only for the lantern's light Gale would doubtless have sheathed his weapon in his new assault, but the more fiercely the trader struggled the more tenaciously
the soldier clung. As it was, Gale carried the lieutenant with him and struck over his head at Stark.

Poleon had leaped into the room at Burrell's heels to receive the impact of a heavy body hurled backward into his arms as if by some irresistible force.
He seized it and tore it away from the thing that pressed after and bore down
upon it with the ferocity of a wild beast. He saw Gale reach over the lieutenant's head and swing his arm,
saw the knife blade bury itself in what he held, then saw it rip away and fell
a hot-spurt spurt into his face. Doret glanced Burrell rising from his knees, his arms about the trader's
waist, and the next instant the combatants were dragged apart.

The lieutenant wrenched the dripping blade from Gale's hand. It no longer gleamed, but was warm and slippery in his fingers. Poleon held Stark's gun, which was empty and smoking.

The fight had not lasted a minute,
and yet what terrible havoc had been
wrought! The gambler was drenched
with his own blood, which gushed
from him, black in the yellow flicker
and so plentifully that the Frenchman
was befouled with it, while Gale, too,
was horribly stained, but whether
from his own or his enemy's veins it was hard to tell. The trader paid no
heed to himself nor to the intruders
allowing Burrell to push him back against the wall, the breath wheezing
in and out of his lungs, his eyes fastened on Stark.

"I got you, Bennett!" he cried
hoarsely. "Your magic is no good." His teeth showed through his grizzled muzzle like the fangs of some wild animal.

Bennett, or Stark, as the others
knew him, lunged about with his cap-itor, trying to get at his enemy and crying curses on them all, but he was like a child in Poleon's arms. Gradually he weakened, and suddenly resistance died out of him.

"Come away from here," the lieutenant ordered Gale.

But the old man did not hear and gathered himself as if to resume the battle with his bare hands, whereupon
the soldier, finding himself shaking
like a frightened child and growing physically weak at what he saw,
doubled his ability to prevent the encounter and repeated his command.

"Come away!" he shouted. But the words sounded foolishly flat and lame.

Then Stark spoke intelligibly for the first time.

"Arrest him! You've got to believe what I told you now, Burrell!" He poured forth a stream of unspeakable
profanity, smitten by the bitter knowledge of his first and only defeat.

"You'll hang, Gaylor! I'll see your neck stretched!" To Poleon he panted excitedly: "I followed him for fifteen years, Doret. He killed my wife!"

"Dat's a—d lie!" said the Frenchman.

"No, it isn't. He's under indictment for it back in California. He shot her down in cold blood, then ran off with my kid. That's her he calls Necia.
She's mine. Ain't I right, lieutenant?"
At this final desperate effort to fix
the crime upon his rival Burrell turned on him with loathing.

"It's no use, Stark. We heard you say she killed herself. We were standing outside the door, both of us, and got it from your own lips."

Until this moment the man had stood on his own feet, but now he began to sag, seeing which Poleon supported him to the bed, where he sank weakly, collapsing in every joint and muscle.

"It's a job," he snarled. "You put
this up, you three, and came here to gang me." An unnatural shudder con-vulsed him as his wounds bit at him,
and then he flared up viciously. "But I'll beat you all, I've got the girl.
I've got her."

"Necia!" cried Burrell, suddenly remembering, for this affray had driven
all else from his mind.

Stark crouched on the edge of his
bunk, a ghastly gray grinning thing.
One weapon still remained to him, and he used it.

"Yes, I've got my daughter."

"Where is she?" demanded the trader hoarsely. "Where's my girl?"

The gambler chuckled. An agony
seized him till he hiccoighed and strangled. Then, as the spell passed, he laughed again.

"She's got you in her head, like the mother had, but I'll drive it out. I'll treat her like I did her."

Gale uttered a terrible cry and moved upon him, but Burrell shouldered the trader aside, himself possessed by a cold fury that intensified his strength tenfold.

"Stop it, Gale. Let me attend to this. I'll make him tell."
"Oh, will you?" mocked the girl's father.
"Where is she?"
"None of your d—d business!" Again
he was seized with a paroxysm that left him shivering and his lips colorless. The blankets were soaked and soggy with blood, and his feet rested
in a red pool.
"Ben Stark," said the tortured lover,
"you're a sick man, and you'll be gone
in half an hour at this rate. Won't you do one decent thing before you die?"
"Bah! I'm all right."
"I'll get you a doctor if you'll tell us where she is. If you don't I'll—let you die. For God's sake, man, speak up!"
The wounded man strove to rise, but could not, then considered for a moment before he said:
"I sent her away."
"Where?"
"Up river on that freighter that left
last night. She'll go out by Skagway, and I'll join her later, where I can have her to myself. She's forty miles up river now and getting farther every minute. Oh, you can't catch her!"
The three men stared at one another blankly.
"Why did she go?" said Gale dully.
"Because I told her who she was
and who you are; because she thinks
you killed her mother; because she was glad to get away." Now that he was grown too weak to inflict violent pain the man lied malevolently, gloating over what he saw in the trader's face.
"Never mind, old man; I'll bring her back," said Burrell and laid a comforting hand on Gale's shoulder, for the fact that she was safe, the fact of knowing something, relieved him immensely, but Stark's next words plunged him into even blacker horror than the trader felt.
"You won't want her if you catch
her. Runtion will see to that."
"Runtion!"
"Yes, I sent him with her."
The lover cried out in anguish and
hid his face in his hands.
"He's wanted her for a long time, so I told him to go ahead."
None of them noticed Poleon Doret,
who upon this unnatural confession
alone seemed to retain sufficient control to doubt and to reason. He was thinking hard, straightening out certain facts and trying to square this horrible statement with things he had seen and heard tonight. All of a sudden he uttered a great cry and bolted
out into the darkness unheeded by Gale and Burrell, who stood dazed and distracted with a fear greater than that which was growing in Stark at sight of his wounds.
The gambler looked down at his injuries, opened and closed the fingers
of his hand as if to see whether he still maintained control of them, then
cried out to the two helpless men:
"Well, are you going to let me bleed
to death?"
It brought the soldier out of his trance.
"Why—no, not 'We'll get a doctor.'"
But Gale touched him on the shoulder
and said:
"He's too weak to get out. Lock
him in and let him die in the dark."
Stark cursed affrightedly, for it is a terrible thing to bleed to death in the dark, and in spite of himself the lieutenant wavered.
"I can't do that. I promised."
"He told that lie to my girl. He gave her to that bound," said the trader, but Burrell shoved him through the door.
"No; I can't do that!" And then to the wounded man he said, "I'll get a doctor, but God have mercy on your soul!" He could not trust himself to talk further with this creature nor be near him any longer, for, though he had a slight knowledge of surgery, he would sooner have touched a loath-
some serpent than the flesh of this monstrous man.
He pushed Gale ahead of him, and
the old man went like a driven beast,
for his violence had wasted itself, and
he was like a person under the spell
of a strong drug.

LICENSE BILL
FACING DEATH
Now in Senate Committee,
May Not be Reported.

Optometry Bill Killed By Illinois
House Yesterday—Hilton's Anti-
Big Hat Bill Has Try-out.

MEN PAIR WITH OPPONENTS.

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—The house license committee bill, providing that cities and villages may vote
on the question of saloons independent of the township in which they are located, and which passed the house Tuesday, will be killed in the senate committee on license to which it has been referred by Lieut. Governor Oglesby. The friends of local option say the committee stands six
for the bill to seven against it, and it will probably not even be reported out.

Optometry Bill Killed.
The house killed the bill regulating the practice of optometry, it receiving but 28 votes to 50 against.
The bill defines the practice of optometry to be the "employment of any means other than the use of drugs or by surgery for the measurement of the powers of vision and the adaptation of lenses for the aid thereof. The oculists were opposed to the bill. Governor Deneen two years ago vetoed a similar bill.

Anti-Big Hat Bill.
Hilton's anti-big hat bill had a
try-out in the house this afternoon
and failed to receive the necessary
vote to pass, but before the result was announced Hilton had the bill postponed until a later date when the roll will be called again. The vote this morning indicated the passage of the bill which prohibits hats
of more than 18 inches in diameter.

S.S.S. NATURE'S TONIC

The very great majority of persons need a tonic in the Spring or early Summer. The system undergoes a change at this season and the entire physical machinery is disturbed. The general bodily weakness, a tired, worn-out feeling, fickle appetite, poor digestion, a half sick feeling and a general run-down condition of the system, show that the blood is weak or anaemic, and a blood purifying tonic is needed to build up the deranged system and enrich the blood. The use of S.S.S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the long, hot Summer. Many people have put off using a tonic until the system became so weakened and depleted it could not successfully throw off disease germs, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of fever, malaria or some other debilitating sickness. S.S.S. is Nature's ideal tonic. It is a composition of the extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks which science and experience have proven are best fitted for a tonic to the human system. It contains no minerals of any kind and is therefore perfectly safe for persons of any age. S.S.S. tones up the stomach and digestion, rids
the system of that tired, worn-out feeling, and imparts vigor and strength to every part of the body. It purifies and enriches the blood, stimulates the secreting and excreting members to better action, quiets the over-strained nerves, and makes one feel better in every way.
